

Customer Classification

The customer is hereby classified by the Bank as a non-professional customer for any prospective transactions, thus ensuring the highest possible level of investor protection unless the customer has been specially been informed otherwise. More information about the classification of customers is provided in the attached Investor notification. If the requirements for classification as a professional investor are met by the customer, he may according to legislation request a change of classification in writing. More information about changing customer classification is available in the Investor notification and also at www.danskebank.fi.
